RATIONALE: “Section 117.3(a) of the Michigan Home Rule City Act, MCL 117.3(a), requires that a home rule city charter contain a provision for “the election of a mayor, who shall be the chief executive officer of the city.” However, the Michigan Home Rule City Act does not require that the Charter establish a Board of Police Commissioners.

“Under the 1997 Detroit City Charter, the Police Department is only one of two City departments that are headed by a commission instead of a department director. Because the City of Detroit is a strong-Mayor form of government, the Chief of Police should be directly responsible, as the head of the Police Department, to the Mayor for the delivery of services without the Board of Police Commissioners being placed in the chain of command in the City Charter between the Mayor and the Chief of Police. As a part-time Board, the Board of Police Commissioners is unable to oversee the day-to-day operations of the Police Department, which requires the round-the-clock attention that only a full-time Chief of Police can provide. Sections 7-1102 through 7-1106 of the 1997 Detroit City Charter are realigned, above, to reflect these changes.”-Mayor Bing Administration, Letter, Rec'd December 21, 2010.
